	Brain and Cognitive Sciences BCS department is aimed to study the brain to understand the mind and to provide with engineering and clinical applications. We deeply explore the brain mechanisms at all levels from genes to neurons to circuits to behavior and examine links across these levels. Neurobiology and systems neuroscience are at the heart of the education and research areas. In particular, we explore theoretical and computational neuroscience to gain a fundamental yet integrated understanding of the structure and function of the brain. What makes our department's teaching and research unique is to emphasize cognitive science including psychology, linguistics, anthropology, philosophy, ethics, and aesthetics based on brain sciences. Finally, we expand our research to brain engineering and translational medicine on brain disorders, such as brain-machine interface, brain-inspired artificial intelligence, and computational psychiatry.		•		https://bcs.kaist.ac.kr/ T. 82-42-350-6502 E. bcs_gradadm@kaist.ac.kr

Global Talent Visa Center (On-Campus Visa Center)

KAISTians are acknowledged as the best scientists, and many of them are international scholars. The Korean government supports them in seeking jobs and settlement into Korean society. Therefore, the Ministry of Justice has established the Global Talent Visa Center on the KAIST main campus for easier access and convenience in addressing immigration affairs. The center provides KAISTians with the easiest access and best support to handle their immigration affairs.

- Various Visa Options

F-2-7S: KAIST graduate degree holders can now enjoy expanded prospects for a long-term residency visa (F-2-7S), thanks to the simplified selection procedures introduced in early 2023.

F-5-16S: The Ministry of Justice is introducing the F-5-16S permanent resident visas, specifically designed for foreign professionals in the fields of science and technology. This new system removes income requirements, making it more accessible for qualified applicants.

Dormitory

All students may apply for on-campus student housing. Each room is shared by one or two students and is furnished with beds, closets, desks, and chairs. Residents share bathrooms, laundry rooms, and lounges. Dormitory fees start at approximately KRW 115,000 per month.
